

Create job growth
in our own backyard.

Let's ratify the pending free trade agreements (FTAs) with the sense of urgency they deserve and for the opportunity they create.

MetLife offers its strongest possible support for the pending U.S. FTAs with Colombia, Panama and South Korea.

U.S. Service Jobs are Created. Service companies like MetLife do not export "products," instead they export competencies and expertise. In the insurance industry, most of the new and innovative insurance and benefit services developed for international markets come from our highly skilled workforce of actuaries, investment professionals, risk managers and others right here in the U.S.

Act with Urgency. These FTAs are needed for American job growth and for the continued success of our nation's private service sector. They are good for America and the economic future of our communities. We strongly urge congressional support for enactment.
