

America Left Behind

There are more than 260 free trade agreements (FTAs) in force around the globe today, but the United States has FTAs with just 17 countries.

More than 100 additional FTAs are currently under negotiation among our trading partners, but the United States is participating in just one of these.

As President Obama declared in his State of the Union address, "If America sits on the sidelines while other nations sign trade deals, we will lose the chance to create jobs on our shores." That's exactly what's happening: American workers are being left behind.

Tell the President and Congress to pass America's FTAs with Colombia, Panama, and Korea now—before it's too late.

On trade, when we stand still, we fall behind.
